Module and delivery terms

1. No advisory services. Veriport does not provide advisory or consulting services. No module in this catalogue constitutes advisory or consulting services, including where it is presented under the Veriport name. Modules are packaged, delivered or both by Veriport partners or representatives.
2. Module terms. Each module is subject to its own terms and conditions, which apply regardless of the contents of this document.
3. E-learning licences. Each licence is for one named learner and is not transferable once activated. Access runs for 3 months from activation. Courses contain multiple-choice questions but are not scored. Learners are recorded as having started and completed a course, and a certificate of completion is issued on completion. Further course information is available at veriport.co/lms or on request.
4. Facilitated sessions. Sessions are delivered virtually unless agreed otherwise. Travel and venue costs for on-site delivery are charged separately. Sessions are scheduled with at least 10 working days' notice. A session cancelled with less than 5 working days' notice is forfeited.
5. Participant numbers. Combination e-learning and training packages (T1 to T7) allow up to 10 participants in the facilitated sessions and include 5 individual e-learning licences. Participant and licence numbers for any module may be increased by agreement, with applicable costs quoted.
6. Client input. Disclosure and assessment modules require input from the organisation's representatives. The quality of outputs depends on the quality and timeliness of that input and of responses to information requests. Where information is not provided, the quality of outputs is not guaranteed.
7. Time limits. Time limits for responses from the organisation and participation targets apply within modules and are communicated at the point of delivery.
8. Assessments and gap analyses. These are desk-based, rely on information supplied by the organisation and do not constitute assurance or an audit opinion.
